Some thought is being given to the development of a regional Farmers Market at the new shopping mall in Lynchburg. This mall is scheduled to open in 1981.

For planning purposes, we need to know who would be interested in participating in this regional farmers market.

Several meetings have been held to explore the development possibilities. At this point, everything is positive, but we do need to have some feel for possible participation. Please give us a call if you are interested.

Several weeks ago, we asked whether there were those who would like to assist in the evaluation of new vegetable varieties. Cooperators in 1979 are: Mrs. Scott Sheets, Walter Payne, Mrs. Faye Franklin and Lloyd Walton. Packets of Burpee's Long-Keeper tomato, County Fair cucumber and Park's Whopper Hybrid pepper have been sent to these gardeners.

If there are neighbors of yours, you may like to watch these new vegetable varieties this summer.

Nationally there were 111 million head of cows and calves on hand January 1, 1979. The number is down 5 percent from a year earlier and down 10 percent from 1977.

In Virginia, cattle numbers are down only 4 percent. The state ranks 24th in beef cattle numbers.

Suckling steer calves and heifers destined for the feed lot need to be implanted with Ralgro once and preferably twice during the suckling period. (Since it's nearly impossible to know whether heifers are going to slaughter - care should be exercised with using implants on them.) Ideally calves should be implanted as early as the day of birth and every 90 - 100 days thereafter. One implant can be expected to result in 20 - 25 lbs. additional gain, while two given 90 days apart might yield 40 - 45 lbs. of extra weight over unimplanted calves. At current feeder calf prices, dollar returns for two implants could be around $30 per head.

If only one implant is to be given, a logical time to give it is 90 - 100 days before weaning.

Implanting can be done along with any other cattle management task, but maximum benefits will be achieved if calves receive the first implant within a month of birth and are retreated every 90 - 100 days thereafter.

Census Bureau Launches Campaign

Farm or ranch operators who have not been counted yet in the 1978 Census of Agriculture still have an opportunity to be included, according to the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce.

Uncounted operators are urged to write for a farm census report form to (WYC), Bureau of the Census, 1201 East 10th Street, Jeffersonville, Ind. 47132. The census has been underway since January 1, 1979.

Bureau officials remind farmers and ranchers that the census will include producers of many commodities not often thought of as agricultural. Among these are rabbits, goats, honey and honey bees, fish in captivity, worms, and ducks, pheasants, quail, and pigeons or squab. Greenhouse and such nursery products as sod, mushrooms, greenhouse vegetables, cut flowers, and bulbs are also on the list as farm and ranch products. Any commercial producer of these commodities should fill out a census report form. Bureau officials also remind farm operators that the quicker report forms are returned to the Bureau the less it will cost in follow-up work to complete collection of census data.
